Thomas F. Reeley is in the front rank of every movement for the betterment of Chicago and the brightening of its future.

G. A. Schillinger, the popular head of the Elks' building committee, is doing great work in paving the way for a grand new Elks' building on Washington street.

R. McDonald of Clinton and Adams streets is popular with printers, manufacturers and everybody else.

The Norman Institute at 14 West Washington street is justly celebrated for the efficiency of its massage and physical culture system.

John B. Knight of 72 West Washington street is one of the leaders in the real estate world.

. Ralph Ames, of the Heyer & Ames auto livery, which has the largest and most beautiful garage in Chicago at 940 North Clark street, is a very popular man. He is frequently mentioned for city treasurer and other important offices, but is not a candidate.

Harry W. Cooper has built up a reputation for fair dealing that boosts the sale of the Batavia tires outside of their own good qualities.

Judge Charles A. Williams has made a record as Municipal Judge that should re-elect him.

The City should be redistricted at once, according to law. The wards should be equalized according to population. The First ward only has 50,-682 inhabitants, while the Twentyseventh has 94,360. Bix of the wards contain 75,000 people. The Fifteenth has 80.532; the Twenty-fifth has 86, 104; the Twenty-ninth, 83,691; the Thirty-third, 83,229.

Olive oil is a food, a medicine, condiment, a garnish and a joy for ever. Its growing popularity bespeaks a great increase in the good health of the American people. It is fine for the human system; wards off disease, prevents appendicitis, cures constipation and insures good digestion. The best olive oil in the world comes from the old grand duchy of Lucca in Italy. In Lucca the finest olives on earth grow. The greatest importer of Lucca olive oil in Chicago, as everybody knows, is Albert Zei of 440 Orleans street. If you want to order this toothsome, wholesome and genuine Lucca olive oil, call up Albert Zei, Main 1035. He delivers it over Chicago and suburbs without extra

"Bugs" Infest Gotham's City Hall Cranks and

NEW YORK.—As the flame attracts the moth, so does city hall attract cranks and "bugs" and "nuts"—more than any other spot on earth. But none of them can get by Lieut. "Bill" Kennel, the big cop who guards that sanctum sanctorum, the mayor's office. "A soft answer turneth away wrath." quotes "Bill," meaning thereby that with the average crank, man or woman, who comes to see the mayor about renting city hall or selling him a charm for several millions whereby his mayoralty chair is insured to him forever—some of the actual things that have happened in the past -the best way to handle them is the easiest way. Then you get their confidence and their good will. "We have not as many of them in these days as years ago," says "Bill." "Nowadays they write letters. Recently a fellow called around to give the mayor a solution for the problem of the unemployed. 'Judge Gary,' he said, 'doesn't know anything about the game'—it will be recalled that Mr. Gary was head of the mayor's committee on employment-and I want to give him the real solution.

"'The mayor is very busy today,' I told him. 'But if you tell me your scheme I'll be glad to inform him.' 'Well, you see, it's this way,' said the caller. 'You know, I own the municipal building and I don't like its architecture. So I propose to tear it down. That will give employment to thousands. Of course, I will rebuild it. But in the meantime thousands of men. working four shifts a day, will have a job. Five dollars a day to each. Send me the bill.' And he walked off.

"Then there is a bearded Russian who wears sandals and linen clothes who drops into the city hall every so often to interest the mayor in his back-to-nature' cuit. 'I am a real descendant of Adam,' he says, 'and when we get our Garden of Paradise none of us will wear clothes. I'm sure the mayor would give me a million—he owes it to me—if I could see him, so that I could buy the place.' "He's trying to raise that million," says "Bill," every time the back-to-nature man appears.

The walking bugs-that is, the fellows who start to walk from New York to San Francisco or around the world-are the real pests of city hall. They all want a letter from the mayor, or to have their records vised. More than once has "Bill" rolled down the steps in his fight with a crank.

Memphis Preparing to Dedicate Immense Bridge

MEMPHIS, TENN.—Almost on the spot where De Soto stood when he first gazed upon the Father of Waters rests the eastern pier of the great Harnhan bridge that spans the Mississippi river, connecting Tennessee and Arkansas. The bridge, with its approaches, is three miles long, has cost $8,000,000 and will be fully completed this winter and formally dedicated next April. It will have required three years and a half to build. In its construction 23,000 tons of steel are The spans over the channel of the river total one mile, while on the Arkansas side there are two miles of steel and stone construction over the low river bank district. The bridge is 55 feet above the highest water ever known. This will permit steamboats to pass under it at high water without passing through a draw. When the river is at extremely low stage the upper works of the bridge tower almost 150 feet above the surface of the river. Two railroad tracks cross the bridge, besides a spacious driveway for wagons and automobiles, and sidewalks for foot passengers. Wagon and bot traffic will pass free of charge.

The celebration of the completion of the bridge, which will be held next April, will be the occasion of the greatest pageant ever held in this part of the Mississippi valley. Assurances have been secured from the navy depart ment that battleships, submarines and other vessels will participate in the celebration. Among the craft will be floats of historical character, and the fact that the Memphis pier rests on or near the spot where De Soto discovered the river will be made the basis of a celebration in honor of the great

Old Men's Workshop Is Unique New York Charity

NEW YORK.—The Old Man's workshop, conducted by the New York association for improving the condition of the poor, is giving respectable, elderly men a chance to remain self-supporting and an opportunity to pass the evenings of their lives in something else beside idle and eventless days. Another purpose of the workshop is to provide light work for men temporarily handicapped by sickness until they can go back to a man's fullfledged job. The working capacity of none of these men is great and their tasks must be comparatively easy.

As a result, the workshop schedule calls for six hours a day and the minimum wage paid is about 60 cents a day. The average attendance at the shop during the year is about 70, running as high as 100 in the winter and dropping to 40 in the summer, as many of the men are able to secure some kind of light out-of-door work during the latter period. The association makes an effort to get them such, using the shop only as a last resort when nothing else can be found for them.

At the present time the shop is especially busy turning out toys which are being sent into all of the hospitals and the homes where children are suffering from infantile paralysis. They are also being sent to children who, while free from the disease, have been quarantined in their homes because of the removal of some member of the family to a hospital.

Little Snake Causes Ouakes in the Ouaker City

D HILADELPHIA.-When a 12-inch snake wriggled its way across Chestnut street near Twelfth the other afternoon toward the curbstone scores of men and women looked, stopped and then edged away as the reptile approached nearer. Several exceptionally timid women fled, terror-stricken.

guess I better call for the cruelty wagon." As he departed a man approached who has known snakes all his life. To the astonishment of the spectators he bent down, picked up thesnake and walked away. He had recognized it as a "De Kay garter" snake, the smallest of North American species and one of a harmless variety. It is believed that the snake crawled into an automobile in some out-of-town garage and dropped to the street upon its arrival in the city.
